

// New logistics cluster logo, website

The new logo for the logistics cluster was unveiled 2 December. The logo presents the four transportation sectors - air, road, rail and maritime in blue pictogrammes, with the players and goods of each sector in red squares. The new website was developed by the Public Research Centre Henri Tudor. The site is intended to collect information, and has both a members area for cluster members, and a public area presenting the cluster and offering recruitment information. The site also offers information on becoming a member.
