

Chamber survey indicates doubts about 2011

While 2010 is widely expected to be a year of growth, Chamber of Commerce members report much less optimism about 2011, according to a recent survey with investment and job creation likely to be down on pre-crisis levels. The Chamber carried out the research as part of the Euro-Chambers 2011 survey, co-ordinated by the Chamber of Commerce in Europe. “No signs are to be read that the historic growth potential of Luxembourg...will be available in the medium term,” said the Chamber of its results. The worst feedback came from the construction sector, where 45.9% think the business climate worsened between 2009 and 2010. Fully 57.5% expect a further deterioration. Generally, the larger and more export-oriented the company, the more positive it is about the future.
