

Business Mentoring after one year

The Business Mentoring programme set up last year by the Chamber of Commerce has mentored 10 candidates , including two from the pilot project. It called upon 25 company bosses as well as management staff and one retired person to share their expertise. Programme director Rachel Gaessler said that anyone can benefit from mentoring, including companies that are learning to cope with growth.